Style 6644I

DermaTherapy[®] is a family of fabrics designed specifically for bedding used by people who suffer from atopic dermatitis, psoriasis, rashes, and various skin problems – or for people who simply want to maintain their skin in its healthiest condition. DermaTherapy[®] fabrics maintain their freshness by eliminating odors caused by germs and bacteria. They also carry a soil release finish that aids in the removal of oily stains commonly associated with skin contact. DermaTherapy[®] fabrics are woven of fibers which create micro-channels that draw moisture away and dry the skin more quickly than cotton bedding. These fabrics are also designed to be smooth – minimizing friction with the skin, whether they're damp or dry. DermaTherapy[®] fabrics are manufactured by Precision Fabrics Group Inc., a premier supplier of highly engineered fabrics for the cleanroom, medical, and home furnishings markets.
